

MA in Political Science: Course Fees, Admission 2026, Syllabus, Top Colleges & Career Scope

Do You Aspire to Understand Politics, Governance, and Public Policy? An MA in Political Science Could Be Your Next Step

Have you ever wondered how governments formulate policies, how international relations influence global peace, or how constitutions shape democratic societies? Are you passionate about politics, public administration, diplomacy, governance, or civil services? If you see yourself contributing to society through policy-making, research, education, or public service, then pursuing an MA in Political Science can be an excellent career choice.

Political Science is much more than the study of political parties or elections. It explores political systems, constitutional frameworks, international relations, political theories, public administration, human rights, diplomacy, governance, and public policy. In today's interconnected world, professionals with a deep understanding of political systems and governance are highly valued in government organizations, think tanks, educational institutions, NGOs, international organizations, and research agencies.

If you're planning for MA Political Science admission 2026, this comprehensive guide covers everything you need to know, including eligibility, admission process, fees, syllabus, top colleges, career opportunities, salary, and why Mangalayatan University, Jabalpur is an excellent choice for pursuing this postgraduate program.

MA in Political Science: Course Fees, Admission 2026, Syllabus, Top Colleges & Career Scope

+91 8252 200 200, 8252 300 300

www.mangalayatan.ac.in

MA in Political Science Highlights

Particular	Details
Course Name	MA in Political Science
Course Level	Postgraduate
Full Form	Master of Arts in Political Science
Duration	2 Years
Eligibility	Bachelor's degree from a recognized university
Admission Process	Merit-Based / Entrance-Based
Course Mode	Regular
Average Course Fees	₹20,000 – ₹2,00,000
Average Salary	₹4 LPA – ₹10 LPA
Career Areas	Civil Services, Research, Teaching, Public Administration, NGOs, Journalism, Policy Making

What is an MA in Political Science?

An MA Political Science course is a two-year postgraduate program that provides advanced knowledge of political institutions, constitutional systems, public administration, comparative politics, international relations, political theory, governance, public policy, and contemporary political issues.

The course helps students develop analytical thinking, research abilities, critical reasoning, communication skills, and a deeper understanding of political processes at the national and international levels.

Unlike undergraduate studies, the Master of Arts in Political Science emphasizes research, policy analysis, case studies, debates, presentations, and independent learning. Students explore how governments function, how public policies are designed, how political ideologies evolve, and how international organizations influence global affairs.

Graduates of the MA Political Science course are well-prepared for careers in academia, public administration, government services, diplomacy, journalism, research organizations, and international institutions.

Why Choose an MA in Political Science?

The scope of Political Science has expanded significantly over the past decade due to growing interest in governance, public policy, international relations, and administrative reforms.

Here are some compelling reasons to pursue an MA Political Science degree:

- Diverse Career Opportunities: Graduates can build careers in education, government departments, public administration, journalism, law, policy research, think tanks, NGOs, and international organizations.
- Strong Foundation for Civil Services: The MA Political Science course is highly beneficial for aspirants preparing for UPSC Civil Services, State Public Service Commissions, SSC, and other competitive examinations because it covers subjects relevant to governance, polity, international relations, and public administration.
- Growing Demand for Policy Experts: Governments, research organizations, and private institutions increasingly require professionals who can analyze policies, evaluate governance models, and contribute to evidence-based decision-making.
- Research and Academic Excellence: Students interested in teaching or research can pursue higher studies and contribute to academic and policy research.
- Better Communication and Leadership Skills: The program enhances public speaking, analytical reasoning, debate, leadership, and decision-making skills that are valuable across multiple professions.
- Opportunities in International Affairs: Students interested in diplomacy, foreign policy, and global governance gain valuable knowledge through the study of international relations and comparative politics.

MA Political Science Eligibility Criteria

Before applying for MA Political Science admission 2026, candidates should ensure they meet the eligibility requirements.

Generally, applicants must fulfill the following criteria:

- Bachelor's degree from a recognized university.
- Graduates from Political Science, Humanities, Social Sciences, Arts, Public Administration, History, Sociology, or related disciplines are commonly eligible.
- Minimum qualifying marks generally range between 45% and 55%, depending on university norms.
- Reserved category candidates may receive relaxation in qualifying marks as per applicable guidelines.
- Final-year undergraduate students may also apply, subject to fulfilling admission requirements.

Candidates are advised to check the specific eligibility criteria of the university before submitting their applications.

MA Political Science Admission 2026

The admission process for MA Political Science admission 2026 is straightforward and generally follows merit-based or entrance-based procedures.

Step 1: Check Eligibility

Ensure you satisfy the educational qualifications and minimum percentage required by the university.

Step 2: Fill Out the Application Form

Complete the online or offline application form with accurate personal and academic details.

Step 3: Upload Required Documents

Applicants generally need:

- Graduation mark sheets
- Passport-size photographs
- Identity proof
- Address proof
- Category certificate (if applicable)

Step 4: Merit List or Entrance Examination

Universities may grant admission based on graduation marks or entrance examinations, depending on their admission policy.

Step 5: Document Verification

Shortlisted candidates complete document verification and counseling, if applicable.

Step 6: Admission Confirmation

After successful verification and fee payment, candidates receive admission confirmation.

Entrance Exams for MA Political Science

Admission to the Master of Arts in Political Science may be offered through university-level entrance examinations or merit-based selection.

Some commonly accepted entrance examinations include:

- CUET PG
- State University Entrance Tests
- Individual University Entrance Exams

Many private universities, including Mangalayatan University, Jabalpur, may also provide admission based on academic merit, making the admission process convenient for eligible students.

MA Political Science Course Fees

The MA Political Science fees vary depending on the type of institution, infrastructure, faculty, and facilities offered.

Institution Type	Approximate Annual Fees
Government Universities	₹10,000 – ₹40,000
Private Universities	₹35,000 – ₹2,00,000
Distance Education	₹8,000 – ₹30,000

Apart from tuition fees, students may also need to pay examination fees, registration charges, library fees, hostel fees, and other institutional charges.

At Mangalayatan University, Jabalpur, students benefit from quality education, experienced faculty, modern learning resources, and career-oriented teaching at a competitive fee structure.

MA in Political Science Syllabus (Semester-wise)

The MA Political Science syllabus is designed to help students develop a comprehensive understanding of political systems, governance, public administration, political ideologies, and international relations. The curriculum combines theoretical knowledge with research, policy analysis, seminars, presentations, and project work to prepare students for academic, administrative, and professional careers.

Although the syllabus may vary slightly from one university to another, the core subjects remain largely similar.

Semester	Subjects
Semester I	Political Theory, Indian Political System, Western Political Thought, Research Methodology
Semester II	Comparative Politics, Public Administration, International Relations, Indian Foreign Policy
Semester III	Political Sociology, Human Rights, Public Policy, Governance and Development
Semester IV	Contemporary Political Issues, Democracy and Constitution, Dissertation/Project Work, Elective Subjects

The MA Political Science syllabus also emphasizes critical thinking, report writing, debates, case studies, and research projects, helping students connect theoretical concepts with real-world political developments.

Subjects Covered in MA Political Science

The MA Political Science course offers a broad understanding of political institutions, governance, and public affairs. Some of the major MA Political Science subjects include:

- Political Theory
- Indian Constitution and Government
- Comparative Politics
- International Relations
- Public Administration
- Political Sociology
- Indian Political Thought
- Western Political Thought
- Human Rights
- Public Policy
- Governance
- Diplomacy
- Foreign Policy
- Election Studies
- Research Methodology
- Political Ideologies
- Democracy and Development
- Dissertation and Project Work

These subjects prepare students for careers in government, academia, research, journalism, public policy, and international organizations.

Top Colleges for MA in Political Science in India

Selecting the right institution plays a significant role in shaping your academic and professional future. While many universities offer postgraduate programs in Political Science, students should consider curriculum quality, faculty, infrastructure, research opportunities, and career support before making a decision.

1. Mangalayatan University, Jabalpur

Mangalayatan University, Jabalpur offers a well-structured MA Political Science course designed to combine academic excellence with practical learning. The university focuses on developing analytical thinking, leadership, research capabilities, communication skills, and a deep understanding of governance and public policy. Through experienced faculty, modern teaching methods, seminars, workshops, and student-focused learning, the university prepares graduates for careers in education, civil services, public administration, research, and policy-making.

Other Top Colleges

- Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), New Delhi
- University of Delhi
- Banaras Hindu University (BHU)
- Jamia Millia Islamia
- Aligarh Muslim University
- University of Hyderabad
- University of Madras
- Savitribai Phule Pune University
- Panjab University

Students should evaluate factors such as faculty expertise, placement support, academic reputation, research facilities, and learning environment before choosing a university.

Skills Required for MA Political Science

Success in the Master of Arts in Political Science requires both academic knowledge and practical skills. Developing these competencies can improve career prospects across various sectors.

Some of the essential skills include:

- Critical Thinking
- Analytical Reasoning
- Research Skills
- Public Speaking
- Communication Skills
- Leadership
- Policy Analysis
- Decision-Making
- Problem-Solving
- Report Writing
- Teamwork
- Time Management
- Presentation Skills
- Negotiation Skills

These skills help graduates excel in competitive examinations, public administration, academia, journalism, and policy research.

Career Opportunities After MA Political Science

The MA Political Science career scope has expanded significantly due to the growing demand for professionals in governance, public policy, education, media, and research.

Graduates can pursue careers in:

- Political Analyst
- Policy Analyst
- Public Relations Officer
- Civil Services Officer
- Research Associate
- Political Consultant
- Journalist
- Lecturer
- Assistant Professor
- Content Researcher
- Election Analyst
- NGO Programme Officer
- Social Researcher
- Legislative Assistant
- Public Affairs Executive

Professionals can work in government departments, educational institutions, think tanks, research organizations, media houses, consulting firms, and international agencies.

Government Jobs After MA Political Science

One of the major advantages of completing an MA Political Science course is the wide range of government employment opportunities available.

Graduates can prepare for positions in:

- Union Public Service Commission (UPSC)
- State Public Service Commissions
- Staff Selection Commission (SSC)
- Public Sector Undertakings
- Ministry of External Affairs

- Ministry of Home Affairs
- Ministry of Education
- Election Commission
- Government Research Organizations
- Universities and Government Colleges

The course also provides an excellent academic foundation for candidates preparing for Civil Services, Public Administration, and related competitive examinations.

Salary After MA Political Science

The MA Political Science salary depends on qualifications, skills, employer, job profile, and experience.

Below is an approximate salary range for some popular career options:

Job Role	Average Annual Salary
Political Analyst	₹5–10 LPA
Policy Analyst	₹6–12 LPA
Research Associate	₹4–8 LPA
Lecturer	₹4–8 LPA
Public Relations Officer	₹5–9 LPA
Journalist	₹4–9 LPA
NGO Programme Manager	₹5–10 LPA

Candidates who qualify for government services or pursue higher education often experience substantial career growth and better salary prospects over time.

Top Recruiters

Graduates of the MA Political Science course find employment opportunities across public, private, and non-profit sectors.

Some of the major recruiters include:

- Government Departments
- Public Sector Undertakings
- Universities and Colleges
- Research Institutes
- Think Tanks
- Election Management Organizations
- Media Houses

- Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs)
- International Development Organizations
- Public Policy Consulting Firms
- Corporate Public Affairs Departments

The growing emphasis on governance, policy research, and social development has created increasing demand for Political Science graduates.

Higher Education Options After MA Political Science

Students interested in advanced studies can continue their academic journey through specialized programs.

Popular higher education options include:

- PhD in Political Science
- PhD in Public Administration
- LLB
- Master's in Public Policy (MPP)
- Master of Social Work (MSW)
- UGC NET Preparation
- Research Fellowships
- Diploma in International Relations
- Diploma in Human Rights

Higher education enhances subject expertise and opens doors to teaching, research, and leadership positions.

MA Political Science vs MA Public Administration vs LLB

Feature	MA Political Science	MA Public Administration	LLB
Focus	Politics, Governance, International Relations	Administration and Governance	Law and Legal Studies
Duration	2 Years	2 Years	3 Years
Best For	Civil Services, Teaching, Research	Government Administration	Legal Profession
Career Areas	Academia, Policy, Journalism	Administration, Government	Courts, Law Firms
Research Scope	Excellent	Good	Moderate

Students should choose the program based on their interests and long-term career aspirations.

Why Choose Mangalayatan University, Jabalpur for MA in Political Science?

Choosing the right university is an important step toward achieving your career goals. Mangalayatan University, Jabalpur offers a student-centric academic environment that combines quality education with practical learning and holistic development.

Here are some reasons why students choose Mangalayatan University, Jabalpur for the MA Political Science course:

- Industry and Research-Oriented Curriculum: The curriculum is designed to provide a balance between theoretical concepts and practical applications, helping students understand contemporary political developments and governance issues.
- Experienced Faculty: Students learn under qualified faculty members who guide them through academic concepts, research projects, seminars, and policy discussions.
- Modern Learning Environment: Smart classrooms, digital resources, library facilities, and interactive teaching methods create a supportive learning experience.
- Focus on Skill Development: The university encourages students to participate in seminars, workshops, presentations, debates, and research activities that strengthen communication and analytical abilities.
- Career Guidance: Students receive academic mentoring and career support to prepare for higher education, competitive examinations, and professional careers.
- Affordable Quality Education: Mangalayatan University aims to provide quality higher education through a student-friendly academic ecosystem and competitive fee structure.

Conclusion

An MA Political Science is an excellent postgraduate program for students who aspire to understand governance, public administration, international relations, constitutional systems, and policy-making. The program develops analytical thinking, leadership, communication, and research skills that are highly valued across government departments, educational institutions, research organizations, media houses, NGOs, and international agencies.

If you are planning for MA Political Science admission 2026, choosing the right institution is essential for achieving your academic and professional goals.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

1. What is the duration of the MA Political Science course?

The course is generally completed in two years, divided into four semesters.

2. What is the eligibility for MA Political Science?

Candidates must hold a bachelor's degree from a recognized university. Graduates from Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, and related disciplines are commonly eligible.

3. What is covered in the MA Political Science syllabus?

The syllabus includes Political Theory, Public Administration, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Human Rights, Governance, Public Policy, Research Methodology, and Dissertation.

4. What are the career opportunities after MA Political Science?

Graduates can become political analysts, lecturers, policy analysts, journalists, researchers, civil servants, public relations officers, or NGO professionals.

5. Can I prepare for UPSC after MA Political Science?

Yes. The course provides an excellent foundation for UPSC, State PSC, SSC, and other competitive examinations.

6. What is the average MA Political Science salary?

Fresh graduates generally earn between ₹4 LPA and ₹10 LPA, depending on their role, organization, skills, and experience.

7. Is MA Political Science a good career option?

Yes. It offers diverse opportunities in government services, education, research, media, public policy, and international organizations.

Contact Details

Campus Address : NH-30, Mandla Road, Near Sharda Devi Mandir, Richhai, Barela, Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh-483001

Email Id: info@mangalayatan.ac.in

Phone Number: +91-8252-200-200

Website: <https://www.mangalayatan.ac.in/>